

A good time of year to give your property a 'health check'

We all know how beautiful the weather is in sunny Cyprus, but now we are officially into autumn, it might be a good idea to get some things checked on your property, as we know how severe the rains can be when they eventually do come!!

These are just two examples of roofs with zero protection - just bare concrete or poor finish - and with no proper membrane or correct sealant to care for our most important asset, 'our home'.

EXTERIOR COATINGS

After treatment

We have all seen homes with flaking & chipping paint which results from having an insufficient quality coating or paint. This can also result in problems affecting the walls of your home.

Rising damp can also easily be corrected, preventing concerns about health issues as it can affect asthma sufferers and can even lead to bronchitis or respiratory problems.

We have worked on many many homes throughout the island, and have many satisfied customers, including this customer who wrote to us after her home was repainted in September this year:

"Although I have expressed this verbally, I wanted to put in writing how delighted I am with the work which has recently been done on my house.

From the very first telephone call, the service has been extremely professional, with phone calls being received when they were promised and appointments honoured. The knowledgeable advice and assistance given by Jim Thomson helped me to make the decision as to how much work to have carried out and the work commenced exactly when it was scheduled. Ian and his team worked very hard in high temperatures, painting white on white, and have completed an excellent job. They were very courteous and there was none of the expected mess to have to clear up. I have been very impressed, as I am sure have been my neighbours and people driving along the street, at the finished product.

There is always a downside. Because the outside of the house is a gleaming white, I felt obliged to virtually spring clean the inside of the house! This weekend, I will actually sit back and enjoy my 'new' house.

Thank you again for everybody's hard work and I have absolutely no hesitation in recommending your company. I wish you every success in this demanding economic period."

So have a thorough property check, to rest assured you and your home will be safe from all the elements.
